Celebrating 100 years of Innovation and Consistency at Ecobuild

Sika has chosen to exhibit at Ecobuild 2010 as part of the celebrations to mark 100th year anniversary. Announcing the decision Sika Ltd General Manager Stephen Hearn said “Ecobuild is the world’s biggest event for sustainable design, construction and the built environment, what better place to celebrate the sustainability of Sika and its products.”

Sika will use Ecobuild to show how its products and services support the achievement of sustainability in the built environment. Presenting watertight concrete and waterproofing systems, the latest innovations in comfort flooring, products for the prevention of air leakage from buildings, simple methods to thermally upgrade existing buildings, green roofing solutions and Sika’s ‘better windows’ concept, the stand will cover applications from Basement to Roof.

To see Sika’s wide range of construction products for Basement to Roof applications visit Sika on stand 2350 in Earls Court 2, next to the UK-GBC Arena, at Ecobuild 2010 from the 2nd to 4th March. To register for your free invitation click here.
