Celebrating 100 years of Innovation and Consistency at Ecobuild

Sika BU Contractors will be exhibiting at Ecobuild 2010, forming part of the Sika stand that is celebrating the companies 100th year anniversary. Announcing the decision Sika Ltd General Manager Stephen Hearn said “Ecobuild is the world’s biggest event for sustainable design, construction and the built environment, what better place to celebrate the sustainability of Sika and its products.”

The Sika stand will focus on achieving sustainability of the built environment, with the Contractors Business Unit showing systems for the prevention of air leakage, the thermal upgrading of existing buildings, a new range of Comfort Flooring systems and Sika’s time proven waterproofing solution. Overall the Sika stand will demonstrate innovative ways to meet today’s environmental demands by improving sustainability within the built environment; Basement to Roof solutions that include watertight concrete, green roof solutions and Sika’s ‘better windows’ concept.

For further information on the prevention of air leakage, thermal upgrading of existing buildings, new range of Comfort Flooring systems and Sika’s time proven waterproofing solution visit stand 2350 in Earls Court 2, next to the UK-GBC Arena, at Ecobuild 2010 from the 2nd to 4th March.
